Val Brembana takes its name from the river crossing it, Brembo. The Bergamo Alps constitute its northern limits, notably by the Tre Signori and Diavolo di Tenda Peaks, while at south lies the plain of Bergamo. At East the valley borders with the Valle Seriana and at West with the Valle Imagna. Valle Seriana area includes the Orobie Alps, the Presolana Peak, the Formico Peak and the Val Vertova. The natural landscape is enriched by the historical and cultural elements such as trails, manors and noble house, mines and religious sanctuaries. The Valle di Scalve, offers a landscape with several little glacial lakes, naturalistic trails and kilometres of snow-covered ski tracks.

THE REGION

Dimitri Salvi

Put your skiing boots on and race down the snowy white mountains. The Bergamask mountains offer many ski runs for the perfect skiing holiday and is within easy reach of the Orobie mountains, in some cases only a few dozen kilometres away. A visit to the Brembana, Seriana and Scalve ski resorts lets you choose between runs that together extend for more than two hundred kilometres.

The Val Seriana winds its way along the Serio river, surrounded by not only spacious snow-covered fields and enchanting woods, but also mountains of unrivalled beauty, which ends in the rugged Val di Scalve. Here you will find about ten winter resorts, both large and small, that make up the Orobie skiing area. The resorts are included in both the Seriana valley and Scalve valley, with many kilometres of runs. Here you can practice everything from alpine skiing to cross country and off-piste.

From Milan- Orio al Serio airport you can easily visit the very popular ski area Monte Pora, where the rounded mountain with its slopes and lack of vegetation lets the sun bathe the runs in sun. The Presolana pass offers classic winter resorts and is perfect for beginners and children, while also being close to the Scalve valley in the shadow of the north face of the Presolana mountain. Here you can enjoy the high altitude runs such as Pista Italia, and the beautiful mountain refuge while Schilpario has a wonderful cross-country piste.

With snow-white oases dotted over the untamed slopes, Val Brembana offers an enchanting environment with its closed valley and folds of wild mountainsides. Here the rough slopes have been tamed for skiing, but without compromising their natural beauty. Here a mix of ski resorts caters to all tastes. Why not try ski-mountaineering in Carona, the 47 kilometres of runs in Foppolo, the half-pipe in San Simone, or visit Valtorta-Piani di Bobbio skiing area. Valtorta is the only skiing area in the Orobie mountains to have developed on the slopes of two different valleys, Brembana and Valsassina, and has become one of the most popular winter resorts of the Orobie mountains.

Have a relaxing or adventurous ski holiday in the mountains of Bergamo.

THE RESORTS

Dimitri Salvi

Val Brembana-overview

The Brembo Ski, San Simone, Foppolo and Carona area, is located in the upper Brembana Valley and is easily reached from all main cities in Lombardy and northern Italy.

This fantastic ski area has 50 km of pistes, 17 ski lifts with a total capacity of twenty thousand people per hour, and snowmaking facilities to ensure fun for all with many possibilities for living, leisure and relax. With the realization of the new ski lifts and with the radical refurbishment of existing ski runs and the definition of new tracings, the ski area is able to satisfy the requirements of every type of skier, thanks to the slopes easy to medium difficulty and black runs dedicated to lovers of strong emotions. One area suitable for everyone: families and children, youth and adults. The more experienced skiers can not surely miss the descent from Monte Valgussera, including beautiful landscapes and breathtaking walls, the classic Montebello run completely redesigned and the whole area of the connection between Carona and Foppolo totally upgraded. It is a ski area that is suitable for all, even cross-country skiing enthusiasts, who can use four loop trails for a total of 12 km, and snowboarders, who can test their skills on two dedicated and well equipped snowparks. Again in the Brembana Valley, Piazzatorre offers newly refurbished ski lifts and even the opportunity to try ice hockey. From Valtorta, you can reach Piani di Bobbio, a ski resort in Valsassina whose best runs are on the Bergamask side. This entire valley offers more than 40 ski lifts, together with some excellent loops for cross-country skiing surrounded by nature and marvelous scenery.

Val Brembana-Carona

Carona

This is where ski-mountaineering races for the legendary Parravicini trophy are held. Every year hundreds of athletes climb the steep slopes with sealskin attached to the underside of their skis, applauded by the many enthusiasts of this traditional sport.

There are plenty of other opportunities too, because Carona, the headquarters of the event, is also an important ski resort in the Bergamo area and belongs to the same skiing area as Foppolo, to which it is connected by the lifts in the Carisole valley. Those who instead do not want to go off the beaten track must be "content" with 8 runs: 1 easy, 5 medium and 2 difficult for a total of 22 kilometres. Snow cannons, a skating rink near a pretty artificial lake and loads of sun complete the attractions of this popular ski resort.

Val Brembana-Foppolo

Foppolo

Carona and Foppolo are both connected by the lifts in the Carisole valley.

This resort in the upper Brembana valley is certainly the most well-known of the province and enjoys the greatest international fame, not only for the size of its skiing area (47 kilometres of runs, and if we count the connecting runs with Carona and San Simone, this easily rises to 80), but also because the atmosphere is one of a complete skiing experience: There are many residences and hotels, concentrated so that they do not invade the vast slopes on which the runs have been marked, large parking areas, two ski schools, which have been passing on their tradition for more than fifty years, structures for leisure activities such as the skating rink and numerous places to pass pleasant evenings after a day's skiing. Finally, the jewel in the crown – and very reassuring: 50 points for low pressure snow cannons that ensure skiing on most of the runs even when the snow is not as good as it could be.

Val Brembana-San Simone

San Simone

Why do so many skiers choose San Simone? Firstly because you can always find snow. Ensuring this are not only the low pressure cannons, but also a geographic setting and position able to guarantee an always perfect and consistent snow cover. In second place, but certainly not to be overlooked, is the friendly, welcoming atmosphere at this resort which, with its first class structures concentrated in a small area, has over time become specialized in receiving parties, groups, school pupils and children.

The lower areas have nursery slopes and equipment for even the smallest. 30 kilometres of runs wind around the upper areas with three challenging black pistes: the "Camoscio 1", "Sessi" and "Muri". And what about snowboarders? In San Simone they have not been forgotten.

The area in fact offers a half pipe, which in the last few years has increasingly attracted lovers of this discipline. In other words San Simone is a resort with something for everyone.

Val Brembana-Valtorta/Piani di Bobbio

Valtorta / Piani di Bobbio

Two valleys, Brembana and Valsassina, two provinces, Bergamo and Lecco, only one ski-pass for the Valtorta-Piani di Bobbio skiing area.

It can be reached from both Valtorta in the Bergamo area, and from Barzio, an historic skiing resort in Lecco province. The two places were joined in the middle of the eighties, when the new runs marked out from Piani di Ceresola towards the Brembana village were connected with Bobbio, giving skiers the first intervalley resort in Lombardy. Since then this spacious area –surrounded by an imposing range of peaks that culminate in the unmistakable pyramid of the Pizzo dei Tre Signori – has become one of the most popular winter resorts of the Orobie mountains, thanks to its beautiful runs, in particular those on the Piani di Ceresola slopes, but thanks also to the farsighted alliance between the two valleys.

Val Seriana & Scalve-overview

There is a "mountain" of good reasons for choosing to spend time holidaying or relaxing in the Seriana valley. A long valley that winds its way along the Serio river, surrounded by not only spacious snow-covered fields and enchanting woods, but also surprising mountains of unrivalled beauty, which ends in the rugged Val di Scalve. There are about ten winter resorts, both large and small, that make up the enchanting Orobie skiing area. These include resorts in both the Seriana valley and Scalve valley, many kilometres of runs to practice alpine skiing and where there is also the chance to cross country ski and go off-piste. A slice of happiness that must be tried to be believed.

Val Seriana & Scalve-Lizzola

Lizzola

With snow for many months, the mountains surrounding Lizzola and Valbondione offer perfect slopes for all ages and levels. May it be cross country or alpine. Stand at the feet of a rocky mountain 3 000 metres up and imagine skiing all the way down. Lizzola is a typical mountain village and offers good restaurants, pubs and shops.

Val Seriana & Scalve-Monte Pora

Monte Pora

This is a very popular ski area as it is easily reached from the large cities of Milan and Brescia (approximately an hour) and is a beautiful place. The shape of the rounded mountain with its slopes of varying gradients and the lack of vegetation means it has wide runs of every degree of difficulty. It is exposed to the sun the whole day – a distinctive feature of the area – although without damaging the conditions of the runs and offering the non-skier a chance to pass pleasant days on the snow.

Val Seriana & Scalve-Presolana

Presolana

This is one of the most classic and enchanting winter resorts of the province. Easily reached from all directions, it is a "paradise" for beginners and children, and has become known as the "ski gym" of Bergamo, but is not lacking however in demanding runs for the more experienced. The resort is equipped with snow cannons, a kinderheim and Ski Stadium with automatic chronometer, accessible to all, and is the first centre in Lombardy to offer ski lessons to disabled people.

Val Seriana & Scalve-Spiazzi di Gromo

Spiazzi di Gromo

Close to a beautiful woods, Spiazzi di Gromo offers a medieval village along with a new urban centre with private houses and hotels. The resort has a lot of potential facilities, ski runs, tourist tracks, the Orobie mountains for walks and the Spiazzi pinewood. Not to be missed is the medieval historic centre where sword and metal work is still carried out. Families find Spiazzi enjoyable with its 6 skilifts, 2 black runs, 4 red runs and 2 blue runs. There is also a cross country ski run, a snowpark and a bob run for the summer.

Val Seriana & Scalve-Schilpario

Schilpario

Well-known for its cross-country skiing, Schilpario has a great cross country piste. This Scalve resort also includes an ice-skating centre and one of the trails (1,5 kms long) at Pista degli Abeti circuit has night lightning that enable people to ski on Wednesday nights from 08.00-22:30. During Christmas this trail has special openings.

Val Seriana & Scalve-Colere

Colere

If, after the Presolana pass, you wish to travel a bit further, you come across Colere, positioned at the start of the Scalve valley in the shadow of the north face of the Presolana mountain.

The town has a unique atmosphere due to the grandeur of the imposing mountains and offers kilometres of runs covered in snow until late in the season, because it is facing north.

The good tourist accommodation, together with the high altitude runs (the pride and joy is the Pista Italia, famous for hosting European Cup trials and international and national races) and the beautiful mountain refuges (including the well-known and very popular Albani) are all excellent credentials for a holiday of quality.

Mountain activities

Bergamo's ski resorts provide a variety of opportunities to winter sports enthusiasts: downhill skiing, cross-country skiing, snowboarding, freestyle snowboarding, and sledding.

Even free-riding and kite skiing! But it's fun to take a ride on snowmobile along the snow-covered trails, perhaps under a full moon. Or why not try ice-skating? Backcountry skiers can reach spots that cannot be reached by roads or lifts.

After a day of outdoor activity there's the après-ski life to enjoy: clubs, restaurants and shops selling local cheeses and foods. And if that's not enough there's more: skiing, snowshoeing, and torch-walks by night! There are snowmobile races, ski championships, dirtbiking or BMX riding in the snow for those who love to feel adrenaline pumping through their veins.

At Christmas, of course, visitors have their pick when it comes to traditional market stalls.

Wellness

After a day's skiing an evening of relaxation in a spa of your choice is the perfect ending after an active day. The thermal resorts in Bergamo province offer lots of opportunities to treat oneself in centers where relaxation espouse the environment!

Bergamo has spas and resorts that have been famous for centuries: the Romans knew about the springs that bubble to the surface in the area where the town of TRESORE BALNEARIO, set in the Cavallina Valley, later developed. SAN PELLEGRINO TERME is another important spa town. The spa is still popular thanks to its therapeutic properties of its waters and a walk along the banks of the river Brembo is sure to relax you.

SANT'OMOBONO TERME in Imagna Valley is another known spa town where you can receive a relaxing massage or take a swim..

Liberty style in San Pellegrino: The elegant little town of San Pellegrino Terme, in Val Brembana, which during the twentieth century became a favorite high society holiday spot but was already known for the healing powers of its waters in the Middle Ages, still calls to mind luxurious scenes of the Belle Epoque.

Clusone:

Visit the Clock Tower and the church of Santa Maria Assunta, where the precious high altar, sculpted by Andrea Fantoni, and the altarpiece depicting the Assumption of Mary, a masterpiece by the celebrated Venetian painter Sebastiano Ricci, are to be seen. Do not miss the fifteenth-century Oratory of the Disciplines, on whose façade a highly expressive fresco cycle unfolds illustrating the theme of death after the typical fashion of the medieval imagination.

Lorenzo Lotto itinerary:

There are Lorenzo Lotto's paintings not just in Bergamo, but also in several villages around the bergamask province: Ponteranica, Sedrina, Trescore Balneario, redaro and Celana.

Cornello dei Tasso:

One of the major interesting tourist spots of the media half Brembana Valley is the Historical-artistic itinerary between Oneta of San Giovanni Bianco and Cornello dei Tasso, along Via Mercatorum, an ancient muletrack connecting Bergamo to Valtellina.

At Oneta there is the House of Arlecchino (Harlequin), a 15th century nobleman's building with elegant frescoes portraying the great and famous interpreter of the Bergamo mask, who apparently dwelt in this house.

Bergamo Upper Town

If you are interested in art and history, a stroll through Città Alta (Bergamo upper town) is a good place to start. Old buildings, museums and historical examples offer an idea of the city's history and culture. The funicular railway is the quickest way to reach the old town and also an excellent way to admire some unusual views of the imposing town walls. Visit Piazza Vecchia, the most beautiful square in Europe according to Le Corbusier and the Venetian walls, from where you can admire the panorama of the city. See Porta S. Giacomo and Porta Sant'Agostino and lose yourself in the narrow streets. Take the second funicular to get to the Castle of San Vigilio, once part of an ancient fortification and enjoy the striking panorama.

Dimitri Salvi

Today's wine and food choice in the Bergamo area is a fusion of new recipes and products next to traditional dishes such as polenta and casoncelli. The Bergamask cuisine is becoming richer with every passing day and a taste of Strachitunt Valtaleggio cheese and wines such as the Val Calepio or the Moscato di Scanzo, have been praised widely by connoisseurs. Food and wine festivals are held throughout the year, and quality restaurants offer the best combinations from their locations fish at the lakes, cheese in the mountains and cured meats in the lowlands. The choice is yours! Many restaurants are located within a hotel:
