THE CITY

Stockholm is not only one of the most beautiful cities in the world, it is also one of the most exciting. Stockholm is a welcoming and innovative trendsetter and there is always something new to discover. Whether it is within fashion, technology, music, design, film or food. Stockholm is a place where creativity grows and where dreams and new ideas are realized. The beautiful buildings, fresh air, green spaces and proximity to the water are icing on the cake. The world's first National City Park is located here: a green lung in the pumping heart of the city. With its 750-year history and rich cultural life, the city offers more than 80 museums and attractions and three UNESCO World Heritages. Here you can also explore the archipelago and experience Stockholm from the water, which is one of the absolute musts. Welcome!

Stockholm's neighbourhoods:

Gamla Stan

Stockholm's oldest attraction is much more than the ultra-touristy street of Västerlånggatan. Here you will find some of the city's best restaurants and several bars with live music. Gamla Stan also has small curiosity, antique and handicraft shops, a multitude of cafés and small hotels, as well as several gay bars and cafés.

Djurgården

Many of the most popular museums and attractions are situated on the green island of Djurgården, which is also part of the Royal National City Park. Djurgården is also a popular recreation area. The island offers excellent walks, jogging, cycling and paddling, and is a lovely place to enjoy a picnic. In addition, Djurgården has loads of restaurants and sightseeing options. If you are traveling with children, Djurgården is a must: here you will find the city's best attractions for children, all within walking distance of one another.

Östermalm

The city's exclusive neighborhood is the place to be for fashion and design lovers. Stureplan, one of Stockholm's entertainment hubs, is also found here. Find Swedish fashion brands in Bibliotekstan and international brands along Birger Jarlsgatan. Some of the best design shops and big auction houses are also found in the Östermalm and Norrmalmstorg areas, as well as in Stureplan.

Södermalm

Stockholm's bohemian neighborhood is like a city within the city. The neighborhood also has numerous parks and fantastic panoramic views of the city. The streets around Skånegatan form the SoFo-neighborhood, where visitors will find a string of small shops, bars, cafés and restaurants. Götgatan, Mariatorget and Medborgarplatsen are also popular areas. Södermalm has many of the city's best bars and nightclubs, plus popular gay and lesbian clubs.

Norrmalm/City

Norrmalm is Stockholm's land and water public transportation hub. Major malls and department stores are located here, and the City is also densely packed with hotels and meeting venues.

DO & SEE

Stockholm is an eclectic mix of the medieval and the ultramodern, with everything from photography and contemporary art to handicrafts and cultural history. You can reach most attractions on foot, many of which are perfect for families. Make sure to take in Stockholm from the water. A city built on fourteen islands with a large, centrally located national park also offers incredible water views. And don't miss a boat trip to one of the 30,000 islands in the archipelago.

Stockholmers love their coffee and happily spend a few hours a week at one of the city's many cafés. Several of the year's holidays are also associated with typical Swedish baked goods: Swedish princess cake for birthdays, saffron buns and gingerbread cookies at Christmas, Easter buns at the beginning of the year and marzipan chicks when Easter arrives. Otherwise, the most Swedish thing you can eat is the cinnamon bun. There is even an official cinnamon bun day, which is October 4.

Every neighborhood has typical Swedish cafés. City and Östermalm have the most classic cafés while Gamla Stan and Södermalm have many small, charming and character-filled coffee shops. The Swedish word for a coffee break is "fika".

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

How about clubbing in an opera house, mingling under the stars on a terrace or lounging on a boat deck sipping drinks? Stockholm has trendy nightlife, from cool, sophisticated Stureplan to the bohemian clubs and bars of Södermalm and Gamla Stan. In the summertime, the city's nightlife moves outdoors and revelers take in long, light nights when the sun never sets. These are Stockholm's party neighborhoods:

Stureplan

In Stockholm, Stureplan is the symbol of luxury and indulgence. This is where the young, rich, famous and beautiful hang out. Lines are long for the most popular clubs, and many have selective entry. Arrive early.

Södermalm

Rock, reggae, rockabilly, bohemian, electronic, gay or lesbian. Södermalm blends all styles. This is a more relaxed, less expensive alternative to the luxury of Stureplan. Nightlife spots are primarily in Slussen, Mariatorget, Nytorget and Medborgarplatsen.

Gamla Stan

Nightlife in Gamla Stan is characterized by small, intimate pubs with traditional interiors. Here you will find several bars with an older scene and offering live music; bars with a younger crowd have popped up in recent years.

LGBTQ

Stockholm has no specifically gay neighborhood. You can show your love openly. Locales flying rainbow flags are sprinkled throughout the city, but most gay bars, clubs and restaurants are in Gamla Stan and Södermalm.

SHOPPING

It is hard to name the best place to experience Swedish design, not because of any shortage, but because design permeates everything—from the streets to shops and restaurants. Stockholm has four shopping neighborhoods, each with its own special character.

City/Norrmalm

City is a hub for malls and department stores. Major clothing chains are also found here. Fashion is geared toward a younger crowd and tends to be affordable. By all means, don't miss any of the newer malls and department stores, PUB, Illums Bolighus and MOOD, or the exclusive NK.

Östermalm

Östermalm is Stockholm's exclusive neighborhood. Most international brands and specialty shops focusing on design, fashion and jewelry are around Stureplan and Birger Jarlsgatan. Find Sweden's leading fashion brands around Biblioteksgatan and the area known as Bibliotekstan. Auction houses and exclusive antique shops are located along Arsenalsgatan and Nybrogatan. The area bordered by Sibyllegatan, Östermalmstorg, Karlavägen, Stureplan and Strandvägen has some of the city's best interior design shops.

Gamla Stan

Gamla Stan is so much more than Västerlånggatan, the touristy souvenir street. Visit Gamla Stan in your hunt for authentic handicrafts, art and curiosities. Many small specialty shops and true gems can be found here, especially along Köpmangatan and Österlånggatan. Stroll along Lilla and Stora Nygatan, or lose the map and wander freely. Gamla Stan is not big.

Södermalm

The southern island, Södermalm, is like a city within a city with its characteristic relaxed, bohemian vibe. Here you will find many specialty shops, particularly ones featuring design and vintage fashion. Central areas of Södermalm include Götgatan, Skånegatan and the area known as SoFo, which stands for South of Folkungagatan. A cluster of handicraft shops can be found around Slussen and along Hornsgatan, while Hornstull and Mariatorget are popular up-and-coming neighborhoods.

You can purchase a 1, 3 or 7-day card.

Another alternative is the Stockholm Card. The card includes free public transportation and boat sightseeing, as well as free entry to 80 museums and attractions.
